NO. 30.

COUNCIL MEETING

BILL OF WATER COMPANY FOR $1,400 TURNED DOWN.

ANOTHER WATER PLANT

To Be Installed Here if City Should Grant a Twenty-Year Franchise to M. Nusbaum.

The city council met in regular session Friday evening, and outside of the routine business, brief discussions were had on the "white way," or the new lighting system, and the water question. However, no action was taken by the board on these matters.

A bill of the City Water company for $1,400, which pays for water in hydrants up to December 31, 1911, was not allowed by the board, laying it over until the next meeting night. One reason for it was on account of whether the company will be able to supply the city with the water, and since the bill is for water in advance, the board took the position that they might pay for something that they don't get.

The members of the council discussed the water question and decided to have a special meeting next Friday evening, when probably some action will be taken.

A committee composed of Aldermen Foster, Hooker and Conrad are to see M. Nusbaum, who told Mr. Foster that if the city would give him a franchise for twenty years that a water plant could be installed here. While Mr. Nusbaum did not make a proposition, it is understood he is willing to put in a plant. Mr. Nusbaum said if the city would give him a franchise for twenty years on the old rates of 33 1/2¢ per thousand gallons and 50¢ minimum, he would install a plant here.

Enumerator O. P. Wade, who has been taking the dog census of the city, reported that there were 138 dogs, and that 84 licenses have been taken out. The report was not accepted, as it is thought that there are three times as many dogs in the city.

A grade for a sidewalk on Depot street between Third and Fourth streets was granted.

Mayor Robey spoke of communicating with Lewis M. Seaver in regard to the proposed animal fountain the National Humane Alliance will place here, if a few conditions will be complied with by the city. All of the conditions are acceptable except the location, Mr. Seaver stating that it should be located on the corners of Main and Third streets. This site does not meet with the approval of the members of the board, and some of the property owners are kicking on it being located at that place. Mayor Robey said.

One reason that the members are against locating it on Main street is that it might congest the travel of this street. The council will wait until they receive word from Mr. Seaver in regard to the plan.

Monthly reports of the police judge, city marshal, city weighmaster and collector were read and approved.

A large number of bills were allowed, and as the city is short of funds in the general fund, Mayor Robey was instructed to make some arrangements with the bank whereby the bills could be paid.

THE GIDEON BIBLES ARE HERE FOR THE HOTELS

C. C. Corwin received eighty Gideon Bibles, that will be placed in each room of the Linville and Ream hotels. The Gideons is an organization of traveling men, and a representative was here a few weeks ago and money was raised in the churches for the purpose of buying the books.

Mrs. F. B. Thomas of Shenandoah, Ia., came to Maryville Saturday and is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. M. Hazelrigg.

MERCANTILE COMPANY OPENS FOR BUSINESS

The old Maryville Mercantile company, composed of J. W. Herndon and F. W. Costello, has again opened for business in the Borrusch building, at Third and Buchanan streets, better known as the "green front."

The company will conduct a regular department store of dry goods, millinery, groceries, notions, gents' furnishings, shoes, rugs and so forth.

Arrangement has been made with a large produce dealer to buy poultry and eggs, and they will exchange merchandise for poultry and eggs and cash.

This firm is well known to the people of this section, as it conducted a very successful business previous to its retirement last November, when it sold out to F. E. Yaley of Burlington, Ia., on account of other business interests that demanded their attention. The Yaley company sold the business to Henry Anderson of Exira, Ia., in April, who moved the stock to Centerville, Ia.

Messrs. Herndon and Costello have again decided to speak for the large patronage they enjoyed and win as many new customers as possible, through the square deal method they have always employed.

Their goods are not yet all in place and the departments not all in charge of their managers, but those now at work in placing the stock are Mrs. Anna Hotchkiss, Miss Helen Dougan and Claude Noland. Mrs. Hotchkiss and Miss Dougan were with the company before and are well known and popular with the store's large patronage.

Mr. Noland came from Guilford, where he has had good experience in the general mercantile business and is highly recommended as an able, intelligent, honorable young man. He will have charge of the grocery department.

The millinery and shoe departments will soon be supplied with employees.

Mrs. Frank Bright of Bolckow is a guest for the coming week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown.

Miss Williams' mother, Mrs. C. C. Williams, who formerly lived here, left Des Moines and went to Nebraska and has taken up her home with her son, who has a ranch near Cozad. Her other daughter, Miss Bernice Williams, a former teacher in the Maryville schools, has been teaching in the schools of Des Moines, and has been re-elected for the coming year. Miss Eva Williams will continue her studies at Drake university the coming year.

Mrs. L. E. Taylor of Sacramento, Cal., has been spending a few days with Mrs. Flora Quinn of West Jenkins street and Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Hull living north of Maryville. She went to Pickering Saturday noon to visit Mrs. Fannie Hipple, who is very ill. Mrs. Taylor expects to leave next week for her home, but will stop in Denver, Col., to visit her sister, Miss Ida Olmstead.

Mayor's Proclamation.

To The Citizens of Maryville, Mo.---

All citizens are requested to quit sprinkling lawns and use just as little water as possible, as our water supply is almost exhausted. Will not last over five days under present conditions. All persons should use the greatest precautions against fire, as it would be impossible for the fire department to protect the houses and business houses at this time.

A. S. ROBEY, Mayor.

TO STAY IN LEAGUE

WILL BE BACK IF SHE HASN'T LOST HER FRANCHISE.

MORE MONEY RAISED

Arrangements Being Made Whereby Maryville Will Still Be a Member of Mink League.

Maryville will be back in the Mink league provided she has not lost her franchise. Another effort is being made Saturday afternoon to raise more money, and it is thought that they will be successful, as they have only $200 or $300 more to raise.

Edward W. Keck and John Kane will manage the team and a new board of directors, composed of five, will be selected. Some changes will probably be made in the team, and since the salary limit for the last month was $1,180, or $300 over the salary limit of the league, it will have to be cut down considerably.

Captain Dietz and the ball players left Saturday morning for Falls City, where they will play today. Expense money was sent by President Carey of Omaha to Dietz. The Maryville management paid off all of the players and Captain Dietz has their releases.

It is understood that Carey was trying to dispose of the franchise to Humboldt, Neb., and was to meet the team at Falls City Sunday to make the arrangements. Maryville lost its franchise by failure to present its nine at Falls City yesterday, but it is thought that Carey will let Maryville back in the league if everything is satisfactory here.

Word was received from President Carey Saturday afternoon that Maryville could get back in the league if three other teams in the league would give their consent. Mr. Carey said he would like to see Maryville back in the league and thought there would be no trouble about it.

SAM JORDAN GIVES SOME TIMELY ADVICE

Sam Jordan, the corn expert, believes there is always a way to help out the living expenses, even in times of drouth. He gives the following pertinent advice:

"The old-timers will remember the year 1874, when the grasshopper plague existed in Missouri and adjoining states. The devastation wrought by the grasshoppers that year among crops of all kinds was almost complete. The little pest even consumed potato vines and all other growing vegetation, leaving nothing untouched except the apple crop. There was some old corn in the country, and the menu, morning, noon and night, consisted of corn dodger and apple butter; some did not even have the apple butter. Flour was $5 per hundred pounds, and most folks did not have the price. Certainly many an industrious farmer felt genuine hunger many times.

"It now looks like somebody will experience the same sensation within the next ten or twelve months. If we have reasonable weather during the next ninety days much feed for live stock can be grown, but not much for the family. Turnips, and possibly some sweet corn, constitute all that may be produced for family consumption. Sweet corn may be planted up to July 10 or 15, and with reasonable weather will make some food that will help out, as it is easily canned or dried. So we should not neglect this. If you have more than you may need for your own use, there will be an eager market for it. Turnips cannot take the place of 'dear old spuds' but almost a total failure of the potato crop is now inevitable. So do not neglect to sow some turnips. They may make you a paying crop and help to keep somebody from going hungry. We regret to throw out this scare, but it can do no harm. We hope we will not have to live entirely on sweet corn and turnips, but many a deserving man has done worse, and we should do everything in our power to alleviate what may develop into a distressing condition. Letters are constantly coming to us from other states asking where men, whose crops have burned up, may find work to support them and their families through the coming fall and winter. Let us do all we can to take care of them."

DIDN'T BREAK WILL

JURY RETURNED A VERDICT IN FAVOR OF THE LINEBAUGHS.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Will Be Filed Next Week—Court Adjourned Until Monday, July 17.

The jury in the Linebaugh will contest case, after being out a few hours, returned a verdict Friday afternoon about 6 o'clock "that the paper read in evidence, dated September 1, 1910, purporting to be the last will and testament of Jacob Linebaugh, deceased, is in fact the last will and testament of said Linebaugh. Signed by A. H. Garrett, E. E. Corken, A. C. Dodds, W. H. Chambers, C. E. Owen, H. S. Medsker, P. W. Shafer, C. S. Dougherty, H. D. McDonald, James Albright."

The verdict of the jury was signed by ten members.

The Linebaugh will case has been one of the most hotly contested cases in circuit court. A week or so was taken to try the case.

A motion for a new trial will be filed by Cook, Cummins & Dawson and B. R. Martin, attorneys for the contesting heirs of the Linebaughs probably next Wednesday. Court has set aside Monday, July 17, when the motion will be taken up.

Court adjourned Saturday until Monday, July 17. Before adjournment John Williams, colored porter in Woodward's barber shop, on a charge of disturbing the peace, pleaded not guilty and the court appointed Attorneys L. C. Cook, J. S. Shinabargar, John Dawson and J. W. Peery to defend him. The case will probably be nolle prossed by Prosecuting Attorney Wright.

Joseph Kramer, who is employed in the Reuillard bakery, was issued a certificate of citizenship.

The application for citizenship which was admitted to Ben Benson, June 30, was set aside and the motion filed by the government to dismiss was sustained by the court, and the petition ordered dismissed.

Clem Jeffries of Hopkins pleaded guilty in court Saturday to a charge of common assault and was fined $5 and costs.

NO CHANGE IN WATER SITUATION TODAY

Since the water supply has gotten so low some talk has been made by a number of the three wells that are located on the north side of the square, one at the corner of the Ferritor drug store. For a little expense it is thought that these wells could be opened up and a pump put in.

No change in the water situation today. The supply is getting lower and lower, and unless we have a heavy rain up north on the river in a few days the supply will be exhausted.

The Weather

Unsettled weather with probably local showers tonight or Sunday, slightly warmer tonight.

Mrs. Schafer Very Ill.

Mrs. Ben Schafer, living three miles south of Maryville, who has been lying dangerously ill for several weeks, was slightly improved Saturday. Mrs. Schafer is a sister of the Allen brothers, real estate men of Maryville, who have been at the Schafer home for several days on account of their sister's illness.

Elder A. R. Ogden will speak at the Adventist tent tonight on the subject of "Spiritualism."

Mrs. Wayne Corder of Rosendale is in the city, the guest of Mrs. Harry Shippy and family. Miss Corder attended the State Normal last year.

A Quaint Introduction.

Clarence King, the ethnologist, once wrote from San Francisco to John May the following letter of introduction: "My Dear John—My friend, Florence E. Cutter, in the next geological period will go east. It would be a catastrophe if he did not know you. You will 'swarm in,' as the Germans say, when you meet. Let me I should not be there to expose Mr. Cutter's alias I take this opportunity to divulge to you that the police are divided in opinion as to whether he is Socrates or Don Quixote. I know better; he is both."

The Macgregors.

The Macgregors were forbidden to use their family name in 1603. The proscription was removed by Charles II., only to be inflicted again in the reign of William and Mary. It was not till 1822 that a royal license to use the name was granted to Sir Charles Macgregor, up to then known as "Murray." In the early years of the seventeenth century every man's hand was raised against this persecuted race and they could be mutilated and slain with impunity.—London Spectator.

A Turkish Riddle.

Here is an old Turkish riddle which has been handed down for many centuries and yet has never been answered: "There was once a beggar who always dreamed he was a pasha, and there was a pasha who always dreamed he was a beggar. Which was the happier?"

All Have Troubles.

"Everybody worries about money." "Oh, I don't know. Some men are so rich." "That's just it. Poor men worry because they can't get money, and the rich man worries for fear that it will get away from him."—Philadelphia Ledger.

FOILED THE TURKS JOINING THE ARMY

Vienna Bakers Saved Europe From the Grip of the Moslems.

CAUSE OF SOLYMAN'S DEFEAT.

A Momentous Incident in History That Carries With It an Explanation of Why Vienna Rolls Are Molded in the Form of a Crescent.

Do you know why Vienna rolls are shaped like crescents? The story forms one of the great "ifs" of history. Solyman the Magnificent, sultan of Turkey, planned to overrun Europe, even as he and his Moslem predecessors had seized the countries of the orient. With a mighty army he captured the fortified island of Rhodes and invaded Hungary, annihilating the Magyar forces at Mohacs (in 1526) and slaying the Hungarian king.

So successful was the first expedition that he planned a second and more far-reaching raid in 1529. Moving onward almost unchecked and carrying all before him, he captured Buda and advanced against the city of Vienna. All Europe stood aghast. Nothing had been able to stem the wave of Moslem conquest. Men remembered how one eastern land after another had been seized by the Mohammedan hordes and forced to adopt Mohammedanism as their religion. People trembled for the fate of Christendom. It seemed for a moment almost possible that the whole eastern section of the European continent might fall victim to the Turk and become part of the Moslem possessions.

To hope for clemency from Solyman was to rely upon the mercy of the merciless. Conquering one Christian army and stronghold after another, the sultan's all powerful army threatened to carry destruction and Mohammedanism throughout the continent. It was one of fate's big movements.

On moved the Turks. Vienna then capital of the German empire stood in their path, a seemingly frail obstacle between such a host and the rest of Europe. Should Vienna fall before the Moslem onset the progress of the sultan's army would be made far easier and other lesser cities would lose heart. The inhabitants of Vienna were at that time more renowned for culture and thrift than for warfare. Yet under Nicholas von Salm they gallantly proposed to defend their city against the foe and to fight to the last gasp for their imperiled homes. The Turks drew near, destroying Vienna's suburbs, and encamped close to the town itself.

It was on Sept. 27, 1529, that the enormous Turkish host laid siege to Vienna. Solyman conducting the affair in person. Before risking useless loss of life in a general assault the sultan tried to make an entrance into the city by means of tunnels. His soldiers were set to work with pick and spade to dig a secret underground way into Vienna by which a body of men might later pour into the place and thus catch the defenders "between two fires."

The cleverness of the Turkish engineers and the countless workers at their command made the task a swift one. Here it was that an "if" intervened to save the threatened capital, and perhaps Europe as well.

Some Vienna bakers were at work one night—so the story runs—in a cell, making bread for the garrison. During a pause in their conversation one of the bakers happened to hear the muffled sound of digging. It seemed to come from a spot not far beyond one of the cellar walls. Guessing at once that the enemy was tunneling a way into the city, the bakers rushed out and gave the alarm. The garrison, aroused, was able to battle Solyman's plan.

The sultan, failing at strategy, next tried force. He buried his army against the city in one fierce assault after another. The Viennese fought like heroes. Each attack was repulsed with terrible loss to the Turks. For four entire days the Moslems assailed the city, fresh detachments ever taking the places of those who reeled back defeated. On the fifth day of the assault, Oct. 14, Solyman gave up the attempt to crush Vienna. He withdrew sullenly from the scene of his defeat, leaving 80,000 dead Turks on the field. The price of conquest was for once too high for him.

Vienna was saved, and not only Vienna, but Europe. Vienna had been Europe's barrier against the Turks' farther advance, and the barrier held firm. The northern limit of Europe's Turkish raids was reached.

Once more, in later years, Vienna was besieged by the Moslems, and she again beat them off. The high tide of such invasion had come and receded. Europe at large was now forever secure from this long dreaded foe.

In the moment of victory, according to the account, the bakers who had given the alarm were not forgotten. To commemorate the event they and their descendants thenceforth molded their rolls into the shape of a crescent (the sacred emblem of Turkey). The custom prevails to this day.

Few Americans who are used to seeing crescent-shaped Vienna rolls have any idea how such rolls first came to be thus twisted nor what great deed the crescent form commemorates.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The most sublime poem that can be heard on this earth is the lapping of a human soul from the lips of childhood.—Victor Hugo.

Opportunities That Are Open to the Enlisted Man.

HIS PAY AND HIS PROSPECTS.

Even as a Private He Can Run His Salary Up to $35 a Month, and as a "Noncom" He Can Double That and in Time Retire Rich and Pensioned.

There are many opportunities open to the man who enlists in the United States army and wears the uniform of Uncle Sam with honor to himself and his country. The pay is good, the food is good, and the chances for advancement are numerous. It is up to the individual man himself to make good and to take advantage of the situation.

Writing in the Columbian Magazine on army affairs, Edward Marshall in discussing the status of the enlisted man says:

Summarized, this is what a man who thinks of marching for his Uncle Samuel as an enlisted man has to consider:

On first enlistment the soldier for Old Glory nowadays gets $15 a month, far better pay, for instance, than the average clerk's, for board, lodging and clothing are furnished by the government. If he qualifies as marksman he adds $2 to his pay; if as a sharpshooter he gets $3 in addition; if as an expert rifleman a full third more. Thus he may at once get $20 monthly cash and found if he is able and keeps busy.

If he enlists as a musician he gets $21 monthly to start off with, the highest "rookie's" pay. In the signal corps, the hospital corps and the engineers' corps first class privates get $18 monthly, and second class privates get $15.

Upon enlistment every man is allowed $83.70 for his uniforms, etc., and afterward $13.54 twice annually. At least one-half the men save money on their clothing allowance, which is more than ample. Privates' pay increases $3 a month for each three year enlistment. An expert rifleman who never gets to be a petty officer, therefore, can run his pay up, with good conduct and intelligence, to $35 a month and all his necessities "found" in five enlistments covering fifteen years.

Noncommissioned officers are taken from the ranks on recommendation of their company or troop commanders and are often given their posts upon their first enlistments. These men are really well paid. A sergeant major is allowed to each regiment. He receives $45 monthly when he is appointed and $4 additional per month each time he re-enlists. Regimental commissary sergeants, regimental quartermaster sergeants and the three battalion sergeants in each regiment get the same high pay. Each company has a first sergeant at $45, with an increase of $4 upon re-enlistments; a second sergeant at $36, with $3 increase for each re-enlistment; a corporal at $18, with $3 each for re-enlistments. The government acts as banker for the soldiers, too, if they desire to have it, and noncommissioned officers have left the service with as much as $20,000 saved—not one, but many. If he sticks tight to the service for full thirty years a noncommissioned officer is entitled to retirement on pay ranging from one-half to three-quarters of his service pay. Seventy dollars monthly is not unusual pay for a "noncom" to retire on. And every year of service seen outside the United States counts as two years at a home post. A man, therefore, after fifteen years of service in the islands may retire on his half pay.

The food the "noncoms" and the other enlisted men are given is wholesome and well cooked, the medical attendance free and able, post and garrison schools have been provided at all posts for the primary branches, and at several posts trade schools have been established. A worthy man, no matter where he may be stationed, is almost certain to get transfer to a "school post" if he asks for it. Cooking, baking, blacksmithing, veterinary surgery, electrical and stationary engineering, all are taught at these trade schools, as well as many other things. Thus a boy who has had little chance to get an education may, after he has joined the army, get a very good one.

There seems to be but one thing which army life does not offer to the enlisted man. But that one thing is home.

In its degree indeed the life of the enlisted man now offers more inducements than the life of the West Pointer. The commissioned officer's pay is small when his expenses and the effort he must make to get commissioned are considered, and, furthermore, the noncommissioned officer is not so subject to political influences as the West Pointer, who gives him his commands.

Oysters as Rat Traps.

Catching rats with oyster shells is the unique method employed by some pearlers round about Broome, Western Australia. They leave a large oyster on the floor of the cabin at night. It opens for a breath of fresh air, and the smell of fresh meat attracts the rats. When the rodent thinks he'll try a little supper, the oyster suddenly decides that he doesn't like fresh air. Next morning the shell is pried open and the dead rat thrown overboard.

STATE SCORES IN DYNAMITING TRIAL

Judge Bordwell Hands Down Decision in McNamara Case.

HOLDS HE HAS JURISDICTION.

Overrules Plea of Defendant, Who Is Accused of Having a Hand in the Destruction of the Los Angeles Times Newspaper Plant.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 8.—A preliminary victory was won by the prosecution in the case of John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, accused of connection with the Los Angeles Times dynamiting.

Judge Walter Bordwell sustained the objection to the plea of no jurisdiction introduced in behalf of the alleged dynamite conspirator. Judge Bordwell said that the Los Angeles courts have jurisdiction over the pending trial of McNamara on nineteen charges of murder.

As to the allegations that extradition had been accomplished by irregularities or what the defense termed "fraud," Judge Bordwell said it was not his province to enter into the question of how a prisoner was brought into the jurisdiction of his court, but to try him after his arrival there. It was agreed that the same ruling should apply to all pleas of no jurisdiction.

Replying to the question of the prosecution, if it so desired to have John J. McNamara plead to charges against him, the defense answered by filing motions to quash the indictments, the motions being the same as those filed in the case of his brother, James B. McNamara, so far as the murder charges are concerned.

The prosecution then moved that all affidavits filed with the motions to quash be stricken from the records. An objection to the court considering the motion to quash also was made. Arguments were continued today.

EDUCATORS FACE FIGHT

Lively Mix Between Insurgents and Regulars at San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 8.—A lively fight on various issues between the so called "insurgent" and "old guard" wings in the National Educational association, which opened its convention here last night, is indicated by statements of its president, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago.

Mrs. Young, leader of the progressive element, was asked what she thought of the insurgents' prospects of success.

"I cannot tell yet," she said. "I think it depends a good deal on how San Francisco and the other coast towns line up. I have no definite information on how the 'old guard' has reached into the west and organized."

Reiterating her declaration that she will not be a candidate for re-election, Mrs. Young said that she would not accept the office if offered to her. Mrs. Young responded to the toast "Educational Values." Professor E. C. Moore of Yale university, David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford university; Mrs. O. Sheppard Barnum of Los Angeles, national chairman of the school patrons, and President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the California university made addresses.

WEEK IN TRADE A QUIET ONE

Hot Weather and Shut Downs Have Depressing Effect.

FUTURE OUTLOOK FAVORABLE.

Inquiries for Pig Iron Continue in Excess of Actual Trading, With Buying Reported From All Sections—As Seen by Dun and Bradstreet's.

New York, July 8.—Bradstreet's says: Excessively hot weather, half yearly shut downs for repairs and inventories, vacations and holidays have combined to make last week a quiet period in trade and industry. While the hot spell now apparently moderating has been helpful to trade in light summer fabrics and wearing apparel at retail, that branch of demand has hardly equalled expectations, while uncertainties as to crops have tended to restrict or repress operations for the future.

Industry generally is quiet over the turn of the year period. Caution and conservatism, with a fair degree of optimism in the face of the depressing weather conditions, are in evidence in leading lines.

Cotton goods are quiet and much interest lies in that crop's progress, pending which operations are closely curtailed.

Failures for the week were 180. Wheat exports for the week aggregate 1,347,275 bushels. Corn exports for the week are 979,077 bushels.

Trade as Seen by Dun.

Dun's Weekly Review of Trade says: Actual business is reduced by the extreme heat extending over a wide section of the country; otherwise developments are favorable. Inquiries for pig iron continue in excess of actual trading, but there is buying in all sections. There is more animation in footwear, due to the arrival of many buyers in the New England market, but purchases are confined to current requirements. The leather markets hold firm, but the recent holiday served to check demand and show manufacturers are now engaged in inventory taking. Supplies of sole leather are limited. The hide market continues well maintained, with a further advance for packer native steers.

TWO SENTENCED TO JAIL

Kansas City Officers Who Refused to Obey Court Order Held for Contempt.

Kansas City, July 8.—E. I. Farnsworth and John P. Tillhof, members of the fire and water board of this city, were ordered sentenced to jail for contempt of court by Judge A. O. Lucas in the circuit court. The sentence is a result of an extended controversy over the payment of salaries to certain employees of the water department. Under a new civil service ruling, men who had passed the civil service examinations were put in the places of nine old employees. The old employees refused to resign and the fire and water board refused to pay their salaries even when the court ordered it. Both men gave bond and filed a motion for a new hearing, which will be considered Monday.

Vacation Advice.

Don't anticipate having a good time unless you can stand disappointment.

Don't fail to look forward to your vacation, as that's all the fun you'll have out of it, anyway.

Don't go away from home, or you will not be comfortable.

Don't stay at home or you'll long for a change.

Don't save your money to lose it at poker before you start.

Don't fail to have a goodly wad, so that you will not have to deny yourself anything.

Don't go to the city and be hot and crowded.

Don't go to the country and be eaten by mosquitoes and choked with dust. Don't go to the mountains and be lonesome.

Don't go to the seaside, where you'll have to mix with the vulgar herd.

Don't go away with a chum if you expect to keep him a friend.

Don't mix with strangers, because you will have to be polite to them, and it will be difficult to find anything in common.

Don't go to or with relatives, as the more they see of you the more they'll knock you.

Don't pay any attention to these rules. Advice has spoiled many a vacation.—Puck.

The number of people killed yearly by wild beasts don't approach the vast number killed by disease germs. No life is safe from their attacks. They're in air, water, dust, even food. That's why chills, fever and ague, all malarial and many blood diseases yield promptly to this wonderful blood purifier. Try them, and enjoy the glorious health and new strength they'll give you. If You Have No Ice.

Obtain a large, common flower pot and seal the hole in the bottom with plaster of paris. Place in the pot the bottle containing milk, or a covered crock containing butter, and fill the pot with water to as great a depth as possible without the bottle or crock floating. Cover the pot with a board or a plate and set put in the open air, away from the direct sunlight, and preferably where there is a current of air. The evaporation of the water from the surface of the porous pot will keep the contents several degrees colder than the outside air, when there is the slightest amount of air stirring. The higher the wind, or the drier the air the greater will be the cooling effect.—Woman's Home Companion.

SIX OF STOKES' LETTERS GONE

Counsel for Defense Fails to Discover Who Suppressed Them.

DETECTIVE SECURED MISSIVES

Admits He Secreted Missing Correspondence—"They'll Make Interesting Reading When They Are Produced," Says Miss Graham.

New York, July 8.—Where are the rest of the Stokes letters? How did they come to be suppressed? Who suppressed them and why? These are the questions that Robert W. Moore, of counsel for Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad, tried to get answered in their preliminary hearing on the charge that they attempted to murder W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire hotel man, when he called at their apartment to get possession of the letters.

The questions were not answered to Mr. Moore's satisfaction, but he was able to advance so far that he will rest his case today after one more witness has been called—the elevator boy who took Stokes to the girls' apartments on the night he was shot.

On cross-examination Stokes told how he first met Ethel Conrad; how she enlisted his sympathies anew for Lillian Graham, who, sick and penniless, Stokes said Miss Conrad told him, had attempted suicide; how he came to call on the two girls after Lillian Graham's recovery, and what his sentiments for them were. His narrative only faltered when he was questioned about the missing letters.

Were More Letters.

Only once did Stokes show signs of confusion.

"What became of those missing letters which you admit having written and which were in Miss Graham's possession on the night of the shooting?" "I haven't the remotest idea," said Stokes, blandly.

Counsel for the two girls called to the stand James Cummings, a house detective at the Ansonia, owned by Stokes.

Cummings said he had searched the girls' apartments two or three days after the shooting with three Central office detectives and found the letters on a closet floor behind a trunk.

Subsequent testimony was that Cummings had delivered the letters to a Mr. Gleason, personal counsel for Stokes, who had passed them on to former Judge Olcott, in charge of the case for Mr. Stokes, who in turn delivered them to the district attorney's office.

Cummings, the detective, had not counted the letters, he swore, and did not know their contents. Judge Olcott swore that the package, as it reached him, contained twelve letters.

"There were eighteen of those letters at least," said Mr. Moore, after the hearing. "Who suppressed them?"

"They'll make interesting reading when they are produced," added Miss Graham. "I would not dare tell you what's in them. You would not believe me, but when I get out of this trouble I'm going to use them. They're a scream."

BLOODHOUND AIDS JUSTICE

Kansas Supreme Court Holds Dog Can Furnish Good Evidence.

Topeka, July 8.—The Kansas supreme court upheld the bloodhound as an agent of justice.

"If the hound had been proven accurate in following the trail of human footsteps, that evidence was enough," said the court, "to convict."

The decision came in the appeal of Glen Adams, convicted in November, 1910, in Graham county, of the murder of Joseph Anderson, a farmer.

Tracks about Anderson's home gave the hounds a good trail and they followed it to the Adams home, six miles distant. Shoe tracks at the Adams house and around Anderson's body corresponded with the shoe Adams wore. The shoes and the hounds were the only evidence against Adams.

Atlantic City, July 8.—Sunrise services on the million-dollar pier ushered in the third day's activities of the twenty-fifth International Christian Endeavor convention.

In a speech to the convention last night, President declared that the negotiations for the arbitration treaty between Great Britain and the United States have reached a point where there is no doubt of the signing of the pact.

Campaigns for securing the next international convention in 1913 are already under way. California seems to be leading.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

A Simple Remedy Brings Back the Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

How often one hears the expression, "She is graying beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never become referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is really the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many people of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation with a chemist by the name of Wyeth, used a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant ointment for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koc Pharmacy.

The Best Advice on Lumber Costs the Least Money and when we say to prospective homebuilders that "now's the time to build" we are offering you really sound advice. No matter what you have heard about cheaper lumber, take it from us that you're on the safe side if you build right now. We haven't been in the lumber business for 6 years for nothing—we know a thing or two and we're willing to admit you do too, but in the face of all this talk nowadays about timber conservation we believe you'll agree that lumber has a fixed value and that by delaying the building of your new home you will gain nothing but inconvenience.

We believe we can convince you the above is good advice—let's talk it over.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, SATURDAY, JULY 8, 1911.

NO. 30.

COUNCIL MEETING

BILL OF WATER COMPANY FOR $1,400 TURNED DOWN.

ANOTHER WATER PLANT

To Be Installed Here if City Should Grant a Twenty-Year Franchise to M. Nusbaum.

The city council met in regular session Friday evening, and outside of the routine business, brief discussions were had on the "white way," or the new lighting system, and the water question. However, no action was taken by the board on these matters.

A bill of the City Water company for $1,400, which pays for water in hydrants up to December 31, 1911, was not allowed by the board, laying it over until the next meeting night. One reason for it was on account of whether the company will be able to supply the city with the water, and since the bill is for water in advance, the board took the position that they might pay for something that they don't get.

The members of the council discussed the water question and decided to have a special meeting next Friday evening, when probably some action will be taken.

A committee composed of Aldermen Foster, Hooker and Conrad are to see M. Nusbaum, who told Mr. Foster that if the city would give him a franchise for twenty years that a water plant could be installed here. While Mr. Nusbaum did not make a proposition, it is understood he is willing to put in a plant. Mr. Nusbaum said if the city would give him a franchise for twenty years on the old rates of 33 1/2¢ per thousand gallons and 50¢ minimum, he would install a plant here.

Enumerator O. P. Wade, who has been taking the dog census of the city, reported that there were 138 dogs, and that 84 licenses have been taken out. The report was not accepted, as it is thought that there are three times as many dogs in the city.

A grade for a sidewalk on Depot street between Third and Fourth streets was granted.

Mayor Robey spoke of communicating with Lewis M. Seaver in regard to the proposed animal fountain the National Humane Alliance will place here, if a few conditions will be complied with by the city. All of the conditions are acceptable except the location, Mr. Seaver stating that it should be located on the corners of Main and Third streets. This site does not meet with the approval of the members of the board, and some of the property owners are kicking on it being located at that place, Mayor Robey said.

One reason that the members are against locating it on Main street is that it might congest the travel of this street. The council will wait until they receive word from Mr. Seaver in regard to the plan.

Monthly reports of the police judge, city marshal, city weighmaster and collector were read and approved.

A large number of bills were allowed, and as the city is short of funds in the general fund, Mayor Robey was instructed to make some arrangements with the bank whereby the bills could be paid.

MERCANTILE COMPANY OPENS FOR BUSINESS

The old Maryville Mercantile company, composed of J. W. Herndon and F. W. Costello, has again opened for business in the Borrusch building, at Third and Buchanan streets, better known as the "green front."

The company will conduct a regular department store of dry goods, millinery, groceries, notions, gents' furnishings, shoes, rugs and so forth.

Arrangement has been made with a large produce dealer to buy poultry and eggs, and they will exchange merchandise for poultry and eggs and cash.

This firm is well known to the people of this section, as it conducted a very successful business previous to its retirement last November, when it sold out to F. E. Yaley of Burlington, Ia., on account of other business interests that demanded their attention. The Yaley company sold the business to Henry Anderson of Exira, Ia., in April, who moved the stock to Centerville, Ia.

Messrs. Herndon and Costello have again decided to speak for the large patronage they enjoyed and win as many new customers as possible, through the square deal method they have always employed.

Their goods are not yet all in place and the departments not all in charge of their managers, but those now at work in placing the stock are Mrs. Anna Hotchkiss, Miss Helen Dougan and Claude Noland. Mrs. Hotchkiss and Miss Dougan were with the company before and are well known and popular with the store's large patronage.

Mr. Noland came from Guilford, where he has had good experience in the general mercantile business and is highly recommended as an able, intelligent, honorable young man. He will have charge of the grocery department.

The millinery and shoe departments will soon be supplied with employees.

Mrs. Frank Bright of Bolckow is a guest for the coming week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown.

TO STAY IN LEAGUE

WILL BE BACK IF SHE HASN'T LOST HER FRANCHISE.

MORE MONEY RAISED

Arrangements Being Made Whereby Maryville Will Still Be a Member of Mink League.

Maryville will be back in the Mink league provided she has not lost her franchise. Another effort is being made Saturday afternoon to raise more money, and it is thought that they will be successful, as they have only $200 or $300 more to raise.

Edward W. Keck and John Kane will manage the team and a new board of directors, composed of five, will be selected. Some changes will probably be made in the team, and since the salary limit for the last month was $1,180, or $300 over the salary limit of the league, it will have to be cut down considerably.

Captain Dietz and the ball players left Saturday morning for Falls City, where they will play today. Expense money was sent by President Carey of Omaha to Dietz. The Maryville management paid off all of the players and Captain Dietz has their releases.

It is understood that Carey was trying to dispose of the franchise to Humboldt, Neb., and was to meet the team at Falls City Sunday to make the arrangements. Maryville lost its franchise by failure to present its nine at Falls City yesterday, but it is thought that Carey will let Maryville back in the league if everything is satisfactory here.

Word was received from President Carey Saturday afternoon that Maryville could get back in the league if three other teams in the league would give their consent. Mr. Carey said he would like to see Maryville back in the league and thought there would be no trouble about it.

SAM JORDAN GIVES SOME TIMELY ADVICE

Sam Jordan, the corn expert, believes there is always a way to help out the living expenses, even in times of drouth. He gives the following pertinent advice:

"The old-timers will remember the year 1874, when the grasshopper plague existed in Missouri and adjoining states. The devastation wrought by the grasshoppers that year among crops of all kinds was almost complete. The little pest even consumed potato vines and all other growing vegetation, leaving nothing untouched except the apple crop. There was some old corn in the country, and the menu, morning, noon and night, consisted of corn dodger and apple butter; some did not even have the apple butter. Flour was $5 per hundred pounds, and most folks did not have the price. Certainly many an industrious farmer felt genuine hunger many times.

"It now looks like somebody will experience the same sensation within the next ten or twelve months. If we have reasonable weather during the next ninety days much feed for live stock can be grown, but not much for the family. Turnips, and possibly some sweet corn, constitute all that may be produced for family consumption. Sweet corn may be planted up to July 10 or 15, and with reasonable weather will make some food that will help out, as it is easily canned or dried. So we should not neglect this. If you have more than you may need for your own use, there will be an eager market for it. Turnips cannot take the place of 'dear old spuds' but almost a total failure of the potato crop is now inevitable. So do not neglect to sow some turnips. They may make you a paying crop and help to keep somebody from going hungry. We regret to throw out this scare, but it can do no harm. We hope we will not have to live entirely on sweet corn and turnips, but many a deserving man has done worse, and we should do everything in our power to alleviate what may develop into a distressing condition. Letters are constantly coming to us from other states asking where men, whose crops have burned up, may find work to support them and their families throughout the coming fall and winter. Let us do all we can to take care of them."

DIDN'T BREAK WILL

Will Be Filed Next Week—Court Adjourned Until Monday, July 17.

The jury in the Linebaugh will contest case, after being out a few hours, returned a verdict Friday afternoon about 6 o'clock "that the paper read in evidence, dated September 1, 1910, purporting to be the last will and testament of Jacob Linebaugh deceased, is in fact the last will and testament of said Linebaugh. Signed by A. H. Garrett, E. E. Coker, A. C. Dodds, W. H. Chambers, C. E. Owen, H. S. Medsker, P. W. Shafer, C. S. Dougherty, H. D. McDonald, James Albright."

The verdict of the jury was signed by ten members.

The Linebaugh will case has been one of the most hotly contested cases in circuit court. A week or so was taken to try the case.

A motion for a new trial will be filed by Cook, Cummins & Dawson and B. R. Martin, attorneys for the contesting heirs of the Linebaughs probably next Wednesday. Court has set aside Monday, July 17, when the motion will be taken up.

Court adjourned Saturday until Monday, July 17. Before adjournment John Williams, colored porter in Woodward's barber shop, on a charge of disturbing the peace, pleaded not guilty and the court appointed Attorneys L. C. Cook, J. S. Shinabargar, John Dawson and J. W. Peery to defend him. The case will probably be nolle prossed by Prosecuting Attorney Wright.

Joseph Kramer, who is employed in the Renillard bakery, was issued a certificate of citizenship.

The application for citizenship which was admitted to Ben Benson, June 30, was set aside and the motion filed by the government to dismiss was sustained by the court, and the petition ordered dismissed.

Clem Jeffries of Hopkins pleaded guilty in court Saturday to a charge of common assault and was fined $5 and costs.

NO CHANGE IN WATER SITUATION TODAY

Since the water supply has gotten so low some talk has been made by a number of the three wells that are located on the north side of the square, one at the corner of the Ferritor drug store. For a little expense it is thought that these wells could be opened up and a pump put in.

No change in the water situation today. The supply is getting lower and lower, and unless we have a heavy rain up north on the river in a few days the supply will be exhausted.

The Weather

Unsettled weather with probably local showers tonight or Sunday, slightly warmer tonight.

A Quaint Introduction.

Clarence King, the ethnologist, once wrote from San Francisco to John Hay the following letter of introduction: "My Dear John—My friend, Horace E. Cutter, in the next geological period will go east. It would be a catastrophe if he did not know you. You will 'swarm in' as the Germans say, when you meet. Let I should not be there to expose Mr. Cutter's alias I take this opportunity to divulge to you that the police are divided in opinion as to whether he is Socrates or Don Quixote. I know better; he is both."

The Macgregors.

The Macgregors were forbidden to use their family name in 1603. The prohibition was removed by Charles II., only to be inflicted again in the reign of William and Mary. It was not till 1822 that a royal license to use the name was granted to Sir Charles Macgregor, up to then known as "Murray." In the early years of the seventeenth century every man's hand was raised against this persecuted race and they could be mutilated and slain with impunity.—London Spectator.

FOILED THE TURKS JOINING THE ARMY

Vienna Bakers Saved Europe
From the Grip of the Moslems.

CAUSE OF SOLYMAN'S DEFEAT.

A Momentous Incident in History, That Carries With It an Explanation of Why Vienna Rolls Are Molded in the Form of a Crescent.

Do you know why Vienna rolls are shaped like crescents? The story forms one of the great "ifs" of history. Solyman the Magnificent, sultan of Turkey, planned to overrun Europe, even as he and his Moslem predecessors had seized the countries of the orient. With a mighty army he captured the fortified island of Rhodes and invaded Hungary, annihilating the Magyar forces at Mohacs (in 1526) and slaying the Hungarian king.

So successful was the first expedition that he planned a second and more far-reaching raid in 1529. Moving on ward almost unchecked and carrying all before him, he captured Buda and advanced against the city of Vienna. All Europe stood aghast. Nothing had been able to stem the wave of Moslem conquest. Men remembered how one eastern land after another had been seized by the Mohammedan hordes and forced to adopt Mohammedanism as their religion. People trembled for the fate of Christendom. It seemed for a moment almost possible that the whole eastern section of the European continent might fall victim to the Turk and become part of the Moslem possessions.

To hope for clemency from Solyman was to rely upon the mercy of the merciless. Conquering one Christian army and stronghold after another, the sultan's all powerful army threatened to carry destruction and Mohammedanism throughout the continent. It was one of fate's big movements.

On moved the Turks. Vienna then capital of the German empire stood in their path, a seemingly frail obstacle between such a host and the rest of Europe. Should Vienna fall before the Moslem onset the progress of the sultan's army would be made far easier and other lesser cities would lose heart. The inhabitants of Vienna were at that time more renowned for culture and thrift than for warfare. Yet under Nicholas von Salm they gallantly proposed to defend their city against the foe and to fight to the last gasp for their imperiled homes. The Turks drew near, destroying Vienna's suburbs, and encamped close to the town itself.

It was on Sept. 27, 1529, that the enormous Turkish host laid siege to Vienna. Solyman conducting the affair in person. Before risking useless loss of life in a general assault the sultan tried to make an entrance into the city by means of tunnels. His soldiers were set to work with pick and spade to dig a secret underground way into Vienna by which a body of men might later pour into the place and crush the defenders "between two fires."

The cleverness of the Turkish engineers and the countless workers at their command made the task a swift one. Here it was that an "if" intervened to save the threatened capital and perhaps Europe as well.

Some Vienna bakers were at work one night—so the story runs—in a cellar, making bread for the garrison. During a pause in their conversation one of the bakers happened to hear the muffled sound of digging. It seemed to come from a spot not far beyond one of the cellar walls. Guessing at once that the enemy was tunneling a way into the city, the bakers rushed out and gave the alarm. The garrison, aroused, was able to baffie Solyman's plan.

The sultan, failing at strategy, next tried force. He buried his army against the city in one fierce assault after another. The Viennese fought like heroes. Each attack was repulsed with terrific loss to the Turks. For four entire days the Moslems assailed the city, fresh detachments ever taking the places of those who reeled back defeated. On the fifth day of the assault, Oct. 14, Solyman gave up the attempt to crush Vienna. He withdrew sullenly from the scene of his defeat, leaving 80,000 dead Turks on the field. The price of conquest was far too high for him.

Vienna was saved, and not only Vienna, but Europe. Vienna had been Europe's barrier against the Turks' farther advance, and the barrier held firm. The northern limit of Europe's Turkish raids was reached.

Once more, in later years, Vienna was besieged by the Moslems, and she again beat them off. The high tide of such invasion had come and receded. Europe at large was now forever secure from this long dreaded foe.

In the moment of victory according to the account, the bakers who had given the alarm were not forgotten. To commemorate the event they and their descendants thenceforth molded their rolls into the shape of a crescent, the sacred emblem of Turkey. The custom prevails to this day.

Few Americans who are used to seeing crescent-shaped Vienna rolls have any idea how such rolls first came to be thus twisted nor what great deed the crescent form commemorates.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The most sublime psalm that can be heard on this earth is the isping of a human soul from the lips of childhood.—Victor Hugo.

Opportunities That Are Open to the Enlisted Man.

HIS PAY AND HIS PROSPECTS.

Even as a Private He Can Run His Salary Up to $35 a Month, and as a "Noncom" He Can Double That and In Time Retire Rich and Pensioned.

There are many opportunities open to the man who enlists in the United States army and wears the uniform of Uncle Sam with honor to himself and his country. The pay is good, the food is good, and the chances for advancement are numerous. It is up to the individual man himself to make good and to take advantage of the situation.

Writing in the Columbian Magazine on army affairs, Edward Marshall in discussing the status of the enlisted man says:

Summarized, this is what a man who thinks of marching for his Uncle Samuel as an enlisted man has to consider:

On first enlistment the soldier for Old Glory nowadays gets $15 a month, far better pay, for instance, than the average clerk's, for board, lodging and clothing are furnished by the government. If he qualifies as marksman he adds $2 to his pay; if as a sharpshooter he gets $3 in addition; if as an expert rifleman a full third more. Thus he may at once get $20 monthly cash and found if he is able and keeps busy.

If he enlists as a musician he gets $21 monthly to start off with, the highest "rookie's" pay. In the signal corps, the hospital corps and the engineers' corps first class privates get $18 monthly, and second class privates get $15.

Upon enlistment every man is allowed $53.70 for his uniforms, etc., and afterward $13.54 twice annually. At least one-half the men save money on their clothing allowance, which is more than ample. Privates' pay increases $3 a month for each three year enlistment. An expert rifleman who never gets to be a petty officer, therefore, can run his pay up, with good conduct and intelligence, to $35 a month and all his necessities "found" in five enlistments covering fifteen years.

Noncommissioned officers are taken from the ranks on recommendation of their company or troop commanders and are often given their posts upon their first enlistments. These men are really well paid. A sergeant major is allowed to each regiment. He receives $45 monthly when he is appointed and $4 additional per month each time he re-enlists. Regimental commissary sergeants, regimental quartermaster's sergeants and the three battalion sergeants in each regiment get the same high pay. Each company has a first sergeant at $45, with an increase of $4 upon re-enlistments; a second sergeant at $36, with $3 increase for each re-enlistment; a corporal at $18, with $3 each for re-enlistments. The government acts as banker for the soldiers, too. If they desire to have it, and noncommissioned officers have left the service with as much as $20,000 saved—not one, but many. If he sticks tight to the service for full thirty years a noncommissioned officer is entitled to retirement on pay ranging from one-half to three-quarters of his service pay. Seventy dollars monthly is not unusual pay for a "noncom" to retire on. And every year of service seen outside the United States counts as two years at a home post. A man, therefore, after fifteen years of service in the islands may retire on his half pay.

The food the "noncoms" and the other enlisted men are given is wholesome and well cooked, the medical attendance free and able, post and garrison schools have been provided at all posts for the primary branches, and at several posts trade schools have been established. A worthy man, no matter where he may be stationed, is almost certain to get transfer to a "school post" if he asks for it. Cooking, baking, blacksmithing, veterinary surgery, electrical and stationary engineering, all are taught at these trade schools, as well as many other things. Thus a boy who has had little chance to get an education may, after he has joined the army, get a very good one.

There seems to be but one thing which army life does not offer to the enlisted man. But that one thing is home.

In its degree indeed the life of the enlisted man now offers more inducements than the life of the West Pointer. The commissioned officer's pay is small when his expenses and the effort he must make to get commissioned are considered, and, furthermore, the noncommissioned officer is not so subject to political influences as the West Pointer, who gives him his commands.

Oysters as Rat Traps.

Catching rats with oyster shells is the unique method employed by some pearly round about Broome, Western Australia. They leave a large oyster on the floor of the cabin at night. It opens for a breath of fresh air, and the smell of fresh meat attracts the rats. When the rodent thinks he'll try a little supper, the oyster suddenly decides that he doesn't like fresh air. Next morning the shell is pried open and the dead rat thrown overboard.

STATE SCORES IN DYNAMITING TRIAL

Judge Bordwell Hands Down
Decision in McNamara Case.

HOLDS HE HAS JURISDICTION.

Overrules Plea of Defendant, Who Is Accused of Having a Hand in the Destruction of the Los Angeles Times Newspaper Plant.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 8.—A preliminary victory was won by the prosecution in the case of John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, accused of connection with the Los Angeles Times dynamiting.

Judge Walter Bordwell sustained the objection to the plea of no jurisdiction introduced in behalf of the alleged dynamite conspirator. Judge Bordwell said that the Los Angeles courts have jurisdiction over the pending trial of McNamara on nineteen charges of murder.

As to the allegations that extradition had been accomplished by irregularities or what the defense termed "fraud," Judge Bordwell said it was not his province to enter into the question of how a prisoner was brought into the jurisdiction of his court, but to try him after his arrival there. It was agreed that the same ruling should apply to all pleas of no jurisdiction.

Replying to the question of the prosecution, if it so desired to have John J. McNamara plead to charges against him, the defense answered by filing motions to quash the indictments, the motions being the same as those filed in the case of his brother, James B. McNamara, so far as the murder charges are concerned.

The prosecution then moved that all affidavits filed with the motions to quash be stricken from the records. An objection to the court considering the motion to quash also was made. Arguments were continued today.

EDUCATORS FACE FIGHT

Lively Mix Between Insurgents and Regulars at San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 8.—A lively fight on various issues between the so called "insurgent" and "old guard" wings in the National Educational association, which opened its convention here last night, is indicated by statements of its president, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago.

Mrs. Young, leader of the progressive element, was asked what she thought of the insurgents' prospects of success.

"I cannot tell yet," she said. "I think it depends a good deal on how San Francisco and the other coast towns line up. I have no definite information on how the 'old guard' has reached into the west and organized."

Reiterating her declaration that she will not be a candidate for re-election, Mrs. Young said that she would not accept the office if offered to her.

Mrs. Young responded to the toast "Educational Values." Professor E. C. Moore of Yale university, David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford university; Mrs. O. Sheppard Barnum of Los Angeles, national chairman of the school patrons, and President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the California university made addresses.

WEEK IN TRADE A QUIET ONE

Hot Weather and Shut Downs
Have Depressing Effect.

FUTURE OUTLOOK FAVORABLE.

Inquiries for Pig Iron Continue in Excess of Actual Trading, With Buying Reported From All Sections—As Seen by Dun and Bradstreet's.

New York, July 8.—Bradstreet's says: Excessively hot weather, half yearly shut downs for repairs and inventories, vacations and holidays have combined to make last week a quiet period in trade and industry. While the hot spell now apparently moderating has been helpful to trade in light summer fabrics and wearing apparel at retail, that branch of demand has hardly equalled expectations, while uncertainties as to crops have tended to restrict or repress operations for the future.

Industry generally is quiet over the turn of the year period. Caution and conservatism, with a fair degree of optimism in the face of the depressing weather conditions, are in evidence in leading lines.

Cotton goods are quiet and much interest lies in that crop's progress, pending which operations are closely curtailed.

Failures for the week were 180. Wheat exports for the week aggregate 1,247,275 bushels. Corn exports for the week are 975,077 bushels.

Trade as Seen by Dun.

Dun's Weekly Review of Trade says: Actual business is reduced by the extreme heat extending over a wide section of the country; otherwise developments are favorable. Inquiries for pig iron continue in excess of actual trading, but there is buying in all sections. There is more animation in footwear, due to the arrival of many buyers in the New England market, but purchases are confined to current requirements. The leather markets hold firm, but the recent holiday served to check demand and show manufacturers are now engaged in inventory taking. Supplies of sole leather are limited. The hide market continues well maintained, with a further advance for packer native steers.

Kansas City Officers Who Refused to Obey Court Order Held for Contempt.

Kansas City, July 8.—E. I. Farnsworth and John P. Tillhof, members of the fire and water board of this city, were ordered sentenced to jail for contempt of court by Judge A. O. Lucas in the circuit court. The sentence is a result of an extended controversy over the payment of salaries to certain employees of the water department. Under a new civil service ruling, men who had passed the civil service examinations were put in the places of nine old employees. The old employees refused to resign and the fire and water board refused to pay their salaries even when the court ordered it. Both men gave bond and filed a motion for a new hearing, which will be considered Monday.

Vacation Advice.

Don't anticipate having a good time unless you can stand disappointment.

Don't fail to look forward to your vacation, as that's all the fun you'll have out of it, anyway.

Don't go away from home, or you will not be comfortable.

Don't stay at home or you'll long for a change.

Don't save your money to lose it at poker before you start.

Don't fail to have a goodly wad, so that you will not have to deny yourself anything.

Don't go to the city and be hot and crowded.

Don't go to the country and be eaten by mosquitoes and choked with dust.

Don't go to the mountains and be lonesome.

Don't go to the seaside, where you'll have to mix with the vulgar herd.

Don't go away with a chum if you expect to keep him a friend.

Don't mix with strangers, because you will have to be polite to them, and it will be difficult to find anything in common.

Don't go to or with relatives, as the more they see of you the more they'll knock you.

Don't pay any attention to these rules. Advice has spoiled many a vacation.—Puck.

as possible without the bottle or board or a plate and set put in the open air, away from the direct sun-

SIX OF STOKES' LETTERS GONE

Counsel for Defense Fails to Discover Who Suppressed Them.

DETECTIVE SECURED MISSIVES

New York, July 8.—Where are the rest of the Stokes letters? How did they come to be suppressed? Who suppressed them and why? These are the questions that Robert W. Moore, of counsel for Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad, tried to get answered in their preliminary hearing on the charge that they attempted to murder W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire hotel man, when he called at their apartment to get possession of the letters.

The questions were not answered to Mr. Moore's satisfaction, but he was able to advance so far that he will rest his case today after one more witness has been called—the elevator boy who took Stokes to the girls' apartments on the night he was shot. On cross-examination Stokes told how he first met Ethel Conrad; how she enlisted his sympathies anew for Lillian Graham, who, sick and penniless, Stokes said Miss Conrad told him, had attempted suicide; how he came to call on the two girls after Lillian Graham's recovery, and what his sentiments for them were. His narrative only faltered when he was questioned about the missing letters.

Were More Letters.

Only once did Stokes show signs of confusion.

"What became of those missing letters which you admit having written and which were in Miss Graham's possession on the night of the shooting?" "I haven't the remotest idea," said Stokes, blandly.

Counsel for the two girls called to the stand James Cummings, a house detective at the Ansonia, owned by Stokes.

Cummings said he had searched the girls' apartments two or three days after the shooting with three Central office detectives and found the letters on a closet floor behind a trunk.

Subsequent testimony was that Cummings had delivered the letters to a Mr. Gleason, personal counsel for Stokes, who had passed them on to former Judge Olcott, in charge of the case for Mr. Stokes, who in turn delivered them to the district attorney's office.

Cummings, the detective, had not counted the letters, he swore, and did not know their contents. Judge Olcott swore that the package, as it reached him, contained twelve letters.

"There were eighteen of those letters at least," said Mr. Moore, after the hearing "Who suppressed them?"

"They'll make interesting reading when they are produced," added Miss Graham. "I would not dare tell you what's in them. You would not believe me, but when I get out of this trouble I'm going to use them. They're a scream."

BLOODHOUND AIDS JUSTICE

Kansas Supreme Court Holds Dog Can Furnish Good Evidence.

Topeka, July 8.—The Kansas supreme court upheld the bloodhound as an agent of justice.

"If the hound had been proven accurate in following the trail of human footsteps, that evidence was enough," said the court, "to convict."

The decision came in the appeal of Glen Adams, convicted in November, 1910, in Graham county, of the murder of Joseph Anderson, a farmer.

Tracks about Anderson's home gave the hounds a good trail and they followed it to the Adams home, six miles distant. Shoe tracks at the Adams house and around Anderson's body corresponded with the shoe Adams wore. The shoes and the hounds were the only evidence against Adams.

TAFT ON ARBITRATION

President Addresses International Christian Endeavor Convention.

Atlantic City, July 8.—Sunrise services on the million-dollar pier ushered in the third day's activities of the twenty-fifth International Christian Endeavor convention.

Christian Endeavor meetings in eleven churches, at which prominent members from different parts of the country discussed the work of increasing the influence of the society, were the features of the convention.

In a speech to the convention last night, President declared that the negotiations for the arbitration treaty between Great Britain and the United States have reached a point where there is no doubt of the signing of the pact.

Campaigns for securing the next international convention in 1913 are already under way. California seems to be leading.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never see one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is really the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can retain a youthful appearance if you let your hair grow gray. Many people of middle age jeopardize their youth simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth revised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant thing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear. This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Ketch Pharmacy.

We haven't been in the lumber business for 6 years for nothing—we know a thing or two and we're willing to admit you do too, but in the face of all this talk nowadays about timber conservation we believe you'll agree that lumber has a fixed value and that by delaying the building of your new home you will gain nothing but inconvenience.

We believe we can convince you the above is good advice—let's talk it over.
